

YOU CAN SAVE A DOG'S LIFE BY REGISTERING YOUR DOG AS A POTENTIAL BLOOD DONOR TODAY!

Every day dogs just like yours need blood transfusions. For many reasons a transfusion is a clinical necessity, without dog blood donors, we can not undertake important and often life-saving procedures.

You can help, there's always a need for donors like your own dog!

With advances in veterinary medicine, we can offer higher and higher standards of care for our patients. In human medicine, supplies of blood and blood products are available through the efforts of the National Blood Bank.

Vets however must rely on their own resources. That's why our donor registry was created. By becoming an animal blood donor, your dog can help us help other pets through provision of life-saving blood transfusions.

Please consider registering your dog as a donor and making him or her available when you are contacted.
